GRANGE URGES CURB ON SPECULATION

Street, Sewer, Water Problems Plague City as Winter Retreats

Sewers

Overhaul Of System Proposed

Engineer Urges $500,000 Program

The present condition of the totally inadequate Mansfield sanitary sewer system and what drastic changes needed to put it in order were outlined by B. V. BeVier, city sanitary engineer, last night at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce water and sewer committee.

BeVier described a program to the C. of C. members, city councilmen and city officials which included expenditures of at least $500,000.

"First we must correct faults in the present system. Lines must be straightened, new and larger mains must be installed and most important of all, we must search out and remove all storm sewer inlets into the sanitary sewer system," BeVier said.

CITES ENGINEERING NEED

"Because no adequate records have been kept in the engineer's department," BeVier pointed out, "we cannot determine all the points when storm water enters the sanitary system."

Emphasizing the need for an adequate engineering department staff, he said that the needed "detective work" could not possibly be done with the present staff of an engineer, an assistant and a rodman.

Col. Stewart Weaver, former city manager of Montclair, N. J., supported BeVier's statement, pointing out that much cost and a great many of the seeming insurmountable problems may be solved by a good engineering survey.

BeVier said that while the corrections in the present system are being made, sewer outlets should be provided for all homes in Mansfield that do not have them.

URGES EXPANSION

"These would be paid by assessments and the city does not have to wait for petitions to go ahead with this work, inasmuch as it is a question of public health," he explained.

With all homes adequately served, and the system straightened out, the next step, as outlined by BeVier, would be the expansion of the present disposal plant to at least a 10,000,000 gallon a day capacity.

That figure, he said, included metropolitan Mansfield, which should be provided with sewage disposal service.

"However, under the law we cannot extend the sewers beyond the city limits. For the people outside the city limit to get service, they must build their own system and then tie it into the city system on a contract basis," he said.

FINANCING'S PROBLEM

Prior to BeVier's talk, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said that the 13-point sewer improvement program outlined last summer has been started, but that some way must be found to finance the program if any real progress is to be made.

Except for the individual lines to homes, the rest of the expansion and renovation program can be paid out of sewer service revenue. BeVier said that a rate adjustment would be necessary, however.

After BeVier completed his discussion, Col. Stewart Weaver showed a motion picture on municipal services as they operated in Montclair.

The film included a portrayal of the workings of the garbage, snow and leaf removal department.

BODY FOUND IN DITCH

AKRON —(AP)— A thaw has disclosed the body of William C. Sager, 51, tire company employe missing from his home since Jan. 24. Motorists found the body in a ditch last night, a short distance from his home. Detectives said there was no evidence of violence.

Water

City Faces Possible Famine

Four big "if's" confront Mansfield and its chances of going through the coming summer with a supply of water adequate to meet sanitation and health needs, fire protection and industrial requirements.

The many question marks the city faces were pointed up by officials today as they prepared to confer with concerned citizens to explain the critical water situation and discuss possible steps to meet contingencies.

As city officials see them, here are the "if's":

If water consumption in Mansfield continues to increase this year at the same rate it has gone upward in the last two years, some additional supply and pumping facilities must be provided this summer to meet the demand.

If the summer should be unusually hot and dry, in contrast to last year's cold and wet season, the already critical situation will be aggravated and may require drastic counter measures for conserving and increasing the supply.

THREAT LOOMS

If there should be a breakdown in present facilities, a sudden shortage of water in the wells, or any other emergency, the city could be in dire circumstances with only a few hours of warning.

If some way is not found to speed work on the new pumping station, new 24-inch main to Woodland reservoir and to speed completion of the Clear Fork water supply project, some other means of temporary relief must be found.

Figures supplied by the water works department show that during peak periods of demand last summer, water consumption rose to the absolute maximum that the present system can supply.

MEET TONIGHT

Possible emergency measures necessary to meet the threat of a city water famine are to be aired at tonight's meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the municipal court room.

B. V. BeVier, Mansfield sanitary engineer, will outline the problem and suggest a possible conservation program. Representatives of industry, labor, civic groups and the general public have been invited to attend the meeting.

Flood Crisis Nearing End

(By International News Service)

The Mississippi and the Ohio river valleys remained the only two areas threatened with floods today as high waters in most of the southeastern states receded slowly.

Along the Ohio river from Cincinnati to Paducah, Ky., residents awaited the slowly advancing crest of the river. Latest reports from Louisville said the Ohio had risen 11 feet since Saturday and was approaching flood stage.

Danger of a major flood apparently had abated at both Pomeroy and Portsmouth. The river reached a crest of 44 feet at Pomeroy at midnight and was expected to crest at 54.5 feet at Portsmouth at 2 p. m. today.

Although lowland areas around Portsmouth were flooded, the city's dam system makes a 66-foot crest necessary to cause major damage.

Action Faced By Landlords

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Prosecution of some 200 greater Cleveland landlords accused of violating the rent control law will begin "immediately."

Rent Control Director Karl Duldner said last night action against the landlords had been delayed pending a supreme court ruling on the act's constitutionality. The court upheld the act yesterday.

Federal Judge Paul Jones of the local court ruled last November the act was unconstitutional.

Streets

Deep Ruts Threaten Traffic

Sudden Thaw Damages Roads

Melting snow and ice in today's spring-like weather left a trail of heavy damage on Mansfield streets and Richland county's unpaved roads.

Coming earlier than usual this year, the late winter thaw virtually dropped the bottom out of gravel, stone, and black-top highways and streets.

Deep ruts appeared in streets all over the city, and County Engineer Walter Rusk said gravel roads are softening under traffic.

Rusk said he would ask the county commissioners to put a load limit on country roads tomorrow. The limit would reduce loads 50 per cent, Rusk said.

E. W. Davis, city street superintendent, said his department was ready to repair the worst damage with slag and cinders. The city's street building program won't get under way until the ground settles in the spring.

State highway department spokesmen said today that a section of State Route 95 between Newville and Perrysville was closed because of flood waters backed up from the Charles Mill dam. Six feet of water covers that section of the road.

Rusk said it is too early to predict how much winter damage to roads will cost the county. Last spring, when damage was heavy, the county spent about $12,000 on repairs.

Jury Indicts In Slayings

Greer Charged On 2 Murder Counts

The Richland county grand jury late yesterday indicted Clarence Greer, 203 East Fourth street, on two counts of first degree murder, and James Gerald Grice, Mansfield, on a charge of operating a car without the owner's consent.

Both will be arraigned Saturday at 10 a. m. before Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Greer, 31, held without bond in the county jail, confessed to the double shotgun slaying of two tenants at his home Feb. 9. The victims, Mrs. Ella Owens, 31, and her brother, Ezell Taylor, 35, were shot in their beds in adjoining rooms.

The 19-year-old Grice, allegedly involved in the "baby bandit gang" activities, confessed to stealing a car from the Place and Birdsong used-car lot Jan. 18, police said. Grice said he changed license plates, drove the car to the Coliseum, then to Columbus and back and returned the car to the parking lot.

'48 Class Sets Record

The largest senior class in the history of Mansfield schools was approved last night by the board of education for graduation June 2.

Three hundred and 79 pupils, including 192 boys and 187 girls, are scheduled to receive their diplomas at exercises which probably will be held at Arlin field. The commencement speaker hasn't been chosen. The 1947 graduating class had 353 members.

Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller said if construction work on Arlin field makes it impossible to hold exercises there, they will be conducted at Stadium field where they have been held for several years.

Pair of Baby Shoes Ignored

Youth Robs Boy, 10, Of Birthday Money

A 'teen-age "strong arm" youth, who preys on small boys and robs them of their pennies and nickels, was sought today by police.

Officers linked the third robbery of small boys in little more than a week to the youthful suspect. All the robberies occurred in the downtown area.

That robbery occurred yesterday at 4:30 p. m. The victim was 10-year-old Ralph Snyder, 419 South Main street.

He told police the youth, about 15, uttered a threat, "you better come into the alley with me or I'll beat you up."

Then, said Ralph, the youth drew him into Library court and robbed him of $1.19 in birthday money he intended to use to buy kite string.

Mrs. Donald Snyder, Ralph's mother, said Ralph also was carrying a pair of shoes belonging to his two-year-old sister. Ralph had picked them up at a repair shop.

"Ralph said he begged the other boy not to take the baby's shoes and that the boy said he didn't want the shoes—only your money," Mrs. Snyder said.

Officers said the "strong arm" youth may be the same boy who has robbed two other boys in the last 10 days by sending them on errands.

One of the boys earlier intimidated by the bullying robber, was Jimmy Taylor, 506 Springmill street. He was robbed of bus tokens, a nail clipper and other items late Saturday after being told by the older youth he could earn a dollar by running an errand to the Ohio theater.

A similar attack occurred on Feb. 6, when a 13-year-old boy was accosted behind the Madison theater after being sent on an errand.

Industrial Ban Lifted

Warm weather today brought a lifting of restrictions on the use of gas, but Ohio Fuel Gas company officials warned the respite was only for the duration of the warm spell.

The restriction on industry, limited to 66 per cent of normal consumption, was lifted entirely yesterday afternoon, Gas company officials said.

With the mercury at 47 at noon today, the weatherman said there was no extremely cold weather in sight the rest of the week. While a mercury drop was forecast for tonight, the weatherman said it will be only a moderate decline.

The five-day forecast follows: Temperature will average about two degrees above normal, becoming milder Wednesday and colder Thursday and Thursday night and becoming colder Friday afternoon and colder late Saturday.

WARREN —(AP)— Sunday dances in the country must stop, Probate-Juvenile Judge Sidney W. Jones has ruled. The judge said he received numerous complaints on Sunday dancing in rural areas.

Vet Sues Under-Age Bride

War Romance Shattered

A Mansfield war veteran, charging his under-age English bride married him five months ago only to gain permanent residence for herself and her mother in the United States, asked Common Pleas court yesterday to sever his marital ties.

Carl T. Dilley, 343 West Fourth street, filed his petition for divorce a week after the bride was granted $20-a-week alimony.

The petition said his wife, Shirley Skerritt Dilley, a minor, resides with her mother at 693 McPherson street. Dilley said he and Shirley were married Sept. 20 in Mansfield.

Dilley stated in the action that he had made arrangements to purchase a home and furniture for his wife and her mother, Alicia Maude Skerritt, but that he canceled his plans because of Shirley's conduct.

He charged gross neglect and extreme cruelty.

Rent Curb Extension Assured

Committee OK's Plan In Senate

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate banking committee unanimously favors extending rent controls for 14 months with some changes.

The House banking committee has voted 18 to 5 to continue the existing law "as is" for one month. It would decide later about a longer extension and any changes.

But members of both committees predicted today the House and the Senate will get together on one of the two proposals—or a compromise—by Feb. 29. The present law expires then.

The Senate committee voted 13 to 0 late yesterday for continuing controls through April 30, 1949.

INCREASES PROVIDED

Its bill would permit rent increases up to 15 per cent where tenants and landlords agreed on a lease running through 1949. The present law, up to the start of this year, allowed increases of the same amount in return for a lease good through 1948.

Tenants who already have agreed to a 15 per cent rent boost would not be charged another one, said Senator Cain (R-Wash), chairman of a banking subcommittee on rents.

Here is Cain's explanation of how the new law would work on those points:

In the case of tenants who accepted rent increases for leases running through 1948, their present rents would be "frozen" when those leases expire Dec. 31. This "freeze" would remain in effect through April 30, 1949—the expiration date of the proposed new law.

Rent control then would end for all tenants who signed leases under the expiring law.

For those who signed leases under the new law, that is, after Feb. 29, 1948, there could be no further increase until Jan. 1, 1950.

Peace Bid Claim Aired

MOSCOW —(INS)— Soviet Russia concluded today its four-part retort to American publication of Nazi-Russian relations with a charge that the United States and Britain conducted peace negotiations with Germany in 1941 and 1943.

The Russians asserted that the U. S. sought to negotiate a separate peace in 1943 under which a greater Germany would have been established as a bulwark against the spread of bolshevism.

The Soviets charged that these negotiations were carried out by Allen W. Dulles, brother of John Foster Dulles, in Switzerland. They said that Dulles, then attached to the American legation in Bern, dealt with German Prince Max Hohenlohe "on direct instruction on the authority of the White House."

The latest Soviet blast against the western allies was the fourth and final installment of the Soviet Information bureau's promised reply to American state department disclosure of Moscow's dealings with the Hitler government which led to a treaty of non-aggression, subsequently scrapped by the Nazis.

A further barb was thrown into the western allies by a Russian charge that the opening of the western front in Europe was delayed deliberately with the hope that Russia would be "bled white" and that she would be eliminated as a world power.

Plane Lands In Tree

MASSILLON—(UP)—Bill Montgomery and Wayne Yoder got back to earth yesterday, climbing down a tree a few minutes after taking off in an airplane. Forced down by motor trouble their two-seater plane came to rest in a tree. Neither man was hurt.

GI Housing Howl Hits High Pitch

WASHINGTON —(AP)— FBI agents are working on complaints from thousands of ex-GI's that they were cheated on veterans housing.

Morris Verner, compliance officer for the housing expediter, said 26,000 former soldiers have appealed to his division alone.

Verner said some contractors left a full room out of the houses they built. One man, he said, cut the width of each house in a row by one foot so he could get more houses in a block.

The compliance division is supposed to see that home builders and sellers live up to regulations in the housing law. Verner said his staff has been swamped.

Prices Show Tendency to Move Higher

Recovery From Break Indicated

NEW YORK—(AP)—Prices were irregular on the commodity and security markets today but the general tendency was slightly higher.

The price of soybeans was up the 8 cent limit at the start. Corn showed the most strength among grains at the opening of the Chicago pits.

May delivery of corn was up as much as 3¾ cents a bushel. Most wheat contracts were slightly higher than yesterday, but the May delivery ranged from ⅛ of a cent up to ⅛ of a cent down. Oats prices were mixed.

There were no early sales of hogs and the bidding was about 50 cents a hundred pounds lower than yesterday's average. Cattle prices were higher and sheep held steady.

Fresh arrivals of both hogs and cattle were below expectations.

Selected stocks moved ahead slightly but trading was light.

Cotton prices ranged unchanged from yesterday to $1.15 a bale lower at New York as the market encountered scattered profit taking.

Wholesale butter prices advanced 3 to 4 cents a pound at New York, wiping out the unusually sharp declines of last Friday.

A reduction of 1.2 cent a pound was announced in linseed oil prices.

The irregularity followed yesterday's rally, one of the strongest since the price break began almost two weeks ago.

Meanwhile, economists tossed a wet blanket on consumers' hopes for further price cuts in meat.

The meat price dips probably will be short-lived, said agriculture department economists in Washington.

Meat animals on farms are decreasing, they added, and consumer demand is expected to continue high.

Schools Seek Vet to Learn Refinishing

Establishment of an on-the-job training course for one veteran at Senior high school was authorized last night by the Mansfield board of education.

The course is designed to train a furniture refinisher. He would be employed by the Mansfield schools, receiving $100 a month to start. His salary would be increased every six months until he reached $200 a month at the end of two years. His income would be supplemented by VA veterans' payments.

Other on-the-job training courses were discontinued at Senior high school Jan. 19 because of absenteeism in the classes, Supt. W. L. Miller said.

Bonus Blanks Due March 1

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio veterans' bonus application blanks will reach county representatives March 1, but forms will be made available to newspapers Thursday.

Administrator Chester W. Goble said today veterans and servicemen's organization could get the forms after county distributing points received them.

Forms for survivors of deceased veterans will be prepared later, he said.

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Miss Margaret Truman celebrated her 24th birthday today at home with her family.

Gambling Methods Flayed

New Market Rules Urged

WASHINGTON—(INS) — The National Grange charged today that "excessive gambling" in the commodity market results in "harmful fluctuation" in the cost of living.

The Grange asked Congress to establish trading market requirements to curb speculation. The position of the national farm organization was presented to the Senate Agriculture committee by J. T. Sanders, Grange legislative counsel.

He declared that market fluctuation hurt producers, dealers and consumers and "are useful only to traders who buy and sell purely for speculation."

Earlier, Dyke Cullum, big-time Washington speculator, told reporters that he "lost" the sale of seven million pounds of peas because the Ferguson committee investigating market gambling seized his records.

SUPPORTS BILL

Sanders testified in support of a bill introduced by Sen. Barkley (D-Ky) which would grant the secretary of agriculture authority to set margins up to 100 per cent on all commodities futures trading.

The Grange spokesman told the committee, however, that he would limit the margin the secretary would be allowed to impose to 50 per cent.

He also said that a margin setting commission might be more satisfactory than putting all the power in the hands of one man.

Sanders charged that "wild fluctuation of prices" produced by speculation increases the already heavy, natural risks the farmer must face.

He acknowledged that some speculation is healthy, but declared that regulatory powers are needed to hold it in check.

Sanders said the Barkley bill would be especially effective in barring "small, uninformed traders" from the market. He contended that these traders produce a market undermined by "thinly-margined accounts," a situation which "culminates always in sudden price-collapse and chaotic price movements."

State Gets U. S. Plant

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood said today the government had given the state a quit-claim deed to the Scioto ordnance plant near Marion.

With the purchase of the 1,243 acre property completed, the welfare department plans to spend $100,000 this year on preliminary repair work. The plant is to be converted into a school for delinquent boys.

The first step, Sherwood said, would be to erect a detention fence around the present buildings.

It is planned to use the property as an adjunct to the Lancaster Boys' Industrial school. Sherwood said it could not be made ready for use before 1949.

The director said the legislature would be asked to appropriate $1,000,000 to rehabilitate the property over a five-year period.

The state acquired the land and 24 buildings at a token cost of $816. The government stipulated, however, the property could be used only as an educational institution.

Commission Calls for U. N. Armed Force In Palestine

Partition Action Will Take Force

Troops Requested Before May 15

LAKE SUCCESS —(AP)— The Palestine commission predicted today the United Nations plan to partition the Holy Land will fail unless adequate armed force is provided to back it up.

The commission, made up of representatives from five of the smaller members of the United Nations, asked the security council to provide such a force, presumably on an international basis, before May 15.

"The commission," its members said in a strongly worded report issued last night, "has decided to refer to the security council the problem of providing that armed assistance which alone would enable the commission to discharge its responsibilities. . . .

It is charged with ending the British mandate over Palestine and with building the foundations for separate Jewish and Arab states there by Oct. 1.

There was no immediate reaction from members of the council, the only U.N. body which has the power to send an army into Palestine. The members cabled the report to their home governments at once for study.

Indications were that the council would open debate on Palestine a week from today.

The five delegates on the commission, self-styled the five lonely pilgrims, topped their report with these statements:

1. "The commission will be unable to establish security and maintain law and order, without which it cannot implement the (Nov. 29) resolution of the general assembly, unless military forces in adequate strength are made available to the commission when the responsibility for the administration of Palestine is transferred to it (The British have said they will end their mandate and transfer authority on or before May 15.)

2. "It is the considered view of the commission that the security forces of the mandatory power must be replaced by an adequate non-Palestinian force"

60-Day Term Suspended

John Harris, 299 John Long avenue, was given a 60-day suspended sentence and was fined $10 and costs after he pleaded guilty in municipal court today to assault and battery charges brought by Fred Howard, 763 Bowman street.

Harris pleaded innocent when arraigned on Jan 14, but changed his plea today and the judge suspended sentence on condition of good behavior.

James H. Cowen, Loudonville forfeited a $100 bond on an unsafe operation charge, and Carl A. Schmidt, 27 Ford avenue, was fined $10 and costs for speeding.

The case against William Haliburton, 121 East Fourth street who was charged with assault, was continued until Feb 24.

Three bids to supply the city fire department with hose, two to supply the city with cement blocks and one to supply it with coal were opened at noon today in the city building.

The bids were sent to the heads of the various departments to give those in charge a chance to determine which of the bids is most satisfactory.

Low bid on the fire hose apparently was submitted by the American - LaFrance Foamite company, Delaware, which asked from $1.41 to $1.63 a foot for 400-pound hose.

Other bidders on fire hose included:

Bi-Lateral Fire Hose company, Columbus, $1.50 and $1.64 per foot for various types of hose carrying 400 pounds of pressure.

A. J. Mannweiler Massillon, $1.60 a foot on 700-pound pressure hose.

Bids on concrete blocks came from the Cement Products company, Mansfield, and Jim Burkhart and Sons Mansfield. The former entered bids ranging from 13 to 85 cents, depending upon size and point of delivery. The Burkhart bid figures ranged from 18 to 27 cents.

The single bid on coal came from the Emmett W. Casey company which offered to supply 300 tons of coal at $8.50 a ton.

Wine Industry Employers Join In Tribute to Union Racketeer

The Beverage Retailer Weekly, a New York journal of the liquor industry, recently covered the greatest social event of the winter season in that incorrigible trade.

"Top representatives of labor, industry and government joined with more than 500 members of the wholesale wine salesmen's union, Local 18, American Federation of Labor, Jan. 19, in honoring Benjamin F. Pross, executive business manager of the union, at a great testimonial dinner and banquet in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Delmonico," the Retailer said.

These dispatches have exposed Pross as a racketeer who shakes down the industry, itself no lily, and terrorizes the rank and file.

Pross owns a dozen New York locals of the A. F. of L. He is an inveterate jail-bird with three old convictions, two of them for bankruptcy frauds. But when he ran up against the administration of Tumble Tom Clark, the attorney general, Pross, being a New Deal unioneer, won easily.

It hardly needs to be said that this prosecution took place in Newark, in the political principality of Frank Hague, before old reliable Judge Thomas F. Meaney, the pride and joy of the Hague mob, and that the U. S. attorney, in the front office, was Edgar H. Rossbach, who engineered in Meaney's court the Joe Fay fiasco which Tumble Tom Clark described as a "—damned outrage."

The Newark thing was a black-market job. Pross muscled 10,500 cases of whisky from Schenley and it showed up in the southern Army camps where the patriots gouged $25 a bottle from American boys who were training to save Pross from Hitler. And six months after his acquittal Pross bought a beautiful country estate and a speedboat on Lake Mahopac, N. Y., and spent about $30,000 cash for improvements.

"While 12 outstanding figures seated on the dais with Mr. Pross had come prepared to make extended laudatory speeches all were told to keep their talks to a minute or two," the Retailer continues. "One exception to the two-minute rule was that given to Andrew Edmiston, representative of West Virginia in Congress, and slated to be the next governor of West Virginia."

What would a West Virginia congressman be doing at this underworld blowout in New York? Stick a pin in that name. Andrew Edmiston.

Last year, the first year of this great series of charity racket shows for Benny Pross, another booze trade journal reported that the mob gave some money to the Damon Runyon Cancer fund and the University Settlement but didn't say how much or how it was raised.

This year, the Retailer says that "while the object of the testimonial affair was for the purpose of presenting a gift of approximately $5,000 in value to Mr. Pross, he declined and directed that the money be apportioned to the New York Heart association, the Runyon Fund and the University Settlement society."

Wait a minute; there were employes at this dinner.

When employers give to a testimonial fund" for a union racketeer it is extortion or bribery, or both. But it isn't charity.

Then we read that J. R. Mandelbaum, assistant regional director of the United States Mediation and Conciliation service, said "labor leaders" in other lines might well "take learning from the methods and approach as used by Mr. Pross."

And swindle creditors in bankruptcy and buy big estates too, no doubt. Nice advice from a federal official.

Alabama Law Permits Divorces To Be Granted In Single Day

The colyum recently reported that "if you knew the right people in Alabama," you could get a valid divorce in one day (a divorce legal in all 48 states) . . . Of course, both parties would have to agree. There could be no protest, etc. . . . There has been some controversy about it in Alabama papers. . . . We repeated the statement and added: "Anybody wanna bet?" . . . It now appears that what we originally reported was correct. . . . T. M. Smith, managing editor of the Gadsden (Ala.) Times, wires: "Have five hundred words from lawyers that judges this city revealing divorces obtained in few hours. Some in less than hour." . . . The mail response to the Mirror and radio stations was surprising. . . . Mainly from women seeking marital freedom. . . . One wired: "Oh, man! What you said was the sweetest music I ever heard on any radio!"

This is part of a long letter from F. W. Bruce, counsellor-at-law of Tuscaloosa, Ala.: "Your statement that it is possible to obtain a divorce in Alabama in one day is basically correct, as you will notice from the statute in question. . . . Under this statute, when both parties (husband and wife) are before the Court. . . . This amendment was made before the 1945 legislature. . . . Because its proceedings necessitate that both parties to the divorce action must be in agreement in getting the divorce, there is no cause for any of these cases to be reviewed by the Alabama Supreme Court. Therefore the Supreme Court of Alabama has never ruled on this amendment until this date.

"In the event that the wife (or husband) came to Alabama alone and filed (and the other was nonresident), then one year's residence on the part of the complaining party would have to be alleged and proved. If both are present within the court's jurisdiction, then no previous residence need be alleged or proved."

The colyum stands by what it said—that if you had the right connections you could get it in a day, as managing editor Smith (above) wired. . . . But now, with all the "publicity," I wouldn't bet.

Asks Curb On Sunday Programs

Church Group Renews Plea to Schools

A delegation went before the Mansfield board of education again last night to request restrictions on the use of school auditoriums for entertainment purposes on Sundays.

The group included Mrs. Ralph McGraw, president, and Mrs. C. L. Lisle, secretary, of the Federated Church Women of Mansfield, and Rev. C. W. Stoneburner of the First Methodist church.

Protesting use of the auditoriums for Sunday entertainments such as barn dances, dance revues, and circuses, Mrs. McGraw said Sunday activities draw children away from Sunday school and church programs.

She said the Federation didn't object to the quality of entertainment offered at the schools, but it thought the programs should not be presented on Sundays.

Harold A. Bruce, board vice president, who presided last night in the absence of President Harold W. Arlin, said the board had been careful not to rent the auditoriums to "outside" organizations, permitting use of the buildings only for charity or purposes promoting community welfare.

While he indicated the board did not intend to censor the activities of groups using the auditoriums, he said the board would weigh the request of the Federation in authorizing future use of the buildings.

Rev. Stoneburner suggested that the auditoriums not be used on Sunday for "commercial purposes," or by groups charging admission.

The Federated Church women had protested to the board in December about Sunday use of the auditoriums.

The board last night heard a request from Adele von Ohl Parker, a North Olmsted horsewoman, for use of one of the school auditoriums for a lecture on horsemanship and safety in handling of horses.

Bruce explained to her that the board didn't permit use of the school buildings for purposes of that kind unless a Mansfield group or individual sponsored the activity. He suggested that she contact the high school principals regarding her appearance at assembly programs.

Civic Music Is Sell-out

Mansfield's Civic Music season is a sell-out for another year!

The 1948-1949 season's campaign closed last night with all seats spoken for in John Simpson auditorium, a few persons who sought membership still unaccommodated.

Mrs. John A. Austin, who guided the latest campaign, said today that all new applicants who sent in their checks last week had been accepted.

The campaign office at the Ohio Fuel Gas company remained open today to accept names of other applicants who will be placed on the preference list for next year. In event of cancellations, they will be accepted as members.

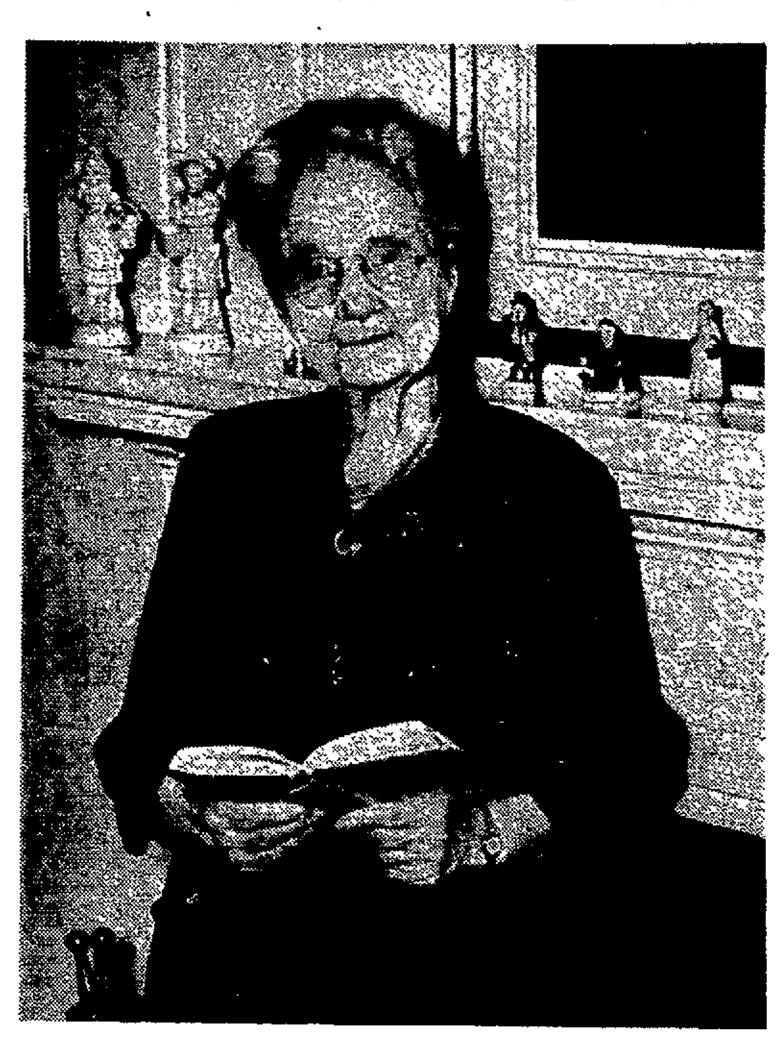
The talent committee will meet within a few days to choose the artists for next season.

Last concert of the current season will be March 29 when the Farbman Sinfonietta, composed of first chair musicians from the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, play here.

Observes 90th Birthday Today

Dream Called Her to America

By NITA BRANSON



MRS. ALICE HILL JONES . . . answered a dream 32 years ago

Because of a dream 32 years ago, Mrs. Alice Hill Jones celebrated her ninetieth birthday in Mansfield today.

Fingering birthday cards from friends abroad as well as in the United States, Mrs. Jones told of that dream.

She resides now at the home of her son, Leonard Jones, 646 Dickson parkway.

It was in 1916—during World War I.

"I had a dream one night that my daughter here was ill and needed me," she reminisced. "It was so real that I just packed up and came in spite of the war.

"And I stayed with my daughter until she died at her home in Ft. Wayne two years later.

"She had needed me and was so glad when I came."

NO GOING BACK

But, at 90, Mrs. Jones still has fond memories of her native England. Letters from a sister-in-law and several nieces there keep her well-informed of conditions there, but sighing, she said:

"It isn't like it used to be. I don't think I'd want to go back. My sister-in-law says things are pretty bad."

Letter writing occupies much of Mrs. Jones's time.

"She begins writing letters as soon as breakfast is over," her daughter-in-law commented. "Then she sits at the window waiting for the mailman so she'll have another lot to answer."

THERE'S SAM BROWN

One of her frequent correspondents is Sam Brown

"Sam Brown," she explained, "is the man who got a pair of long sea boot stockings I knitted for English seamen. I had my name on those stockings and he's been writing ever since.

"But," and her eyes twinkled, "he's only 50."

One of those birthday cards was from Sam Brown, now in Belgium.

Others came from Florida and Cuba and one from a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Bauman, in Hollywood. "To the best little mother in the world," it read.

She has another daughter, Mrs. Howard Dunn, also in Hollywood. A third daughter, Mrs. Roy Magill of Mt. Vernon, is expected at the Jones's home for dinner tonight.

Amvets Rap Pension Bill

Turn Down Proposal Now In Congress

Mansfield Amvets last night turned "thumbs down" on the proposed pension bill for all World War I veterans now pending in Congress. National Amvet headquarters had asked for an expression of opinion on the bill.

Louis Doerr, commander, said Amvets here decided the pension would be "ridiculous"

"We feel that if pensions for war veterans keep up as they have in the past, pretty soon half the population of America will be receiving pensions paid for by the other half.

"However, we are in favor of all disabled veterans or hardship cases being recompensed," he added.

Members last night voted a contribution to the annual Red Cross enrollment which starts March 1 and a sum to the Amvet auxiliary for its welfare work.

A report of the mid-winter conference held in Toledo over the weekend was given. Delegates said the Amvets at the conference voted to send a petition to Congress asking leniency for the young Toledo veteran who was recently court-martialed for shooting two Italian citizens during the war.

4 Teachers Employed

Appointment of four teachers and a secretary to the staff of the Mansfield schools was approved last night by the board of education. The board accepted two resignations.

Teachers who were employed were Mrs. Blanche Robson, history instructor at Senior high school; Mrs. Elizabeth Wappner, English teacher at Senior high school; Mrs. Wiona Miller, permanent substitute at the Hedges school.

Miss Elfrieda Jundt was employed as secretary in the vocational department at Senior high school.

Mrs. Wappner succeeds Mrs. Lois Ann Strawn, who resigned at Senior high school. Miss Jundt will take the post vacated by Mrs. Marjorie Davidson, who resigned.

H. W. Noblet Dies at 53

Homer Ward Noblet, 53, died at his home in Springfield township Monday night following a lingering illness.

Born in Cripple Creek, Colo., May 11, 1894, Mr. Noblet had lived in this vicinity for the past 44 years. He was a member of the Ontario Community church.

Mr. Noblet is survived by his wife, Gladys Scarborough Noblet; four sons, Edward, Merle, Harold and Carl, all of Springfield township; three daughters, Mildred and Lucille, both of Springfield township, and Mrs. A. W. Herman jr., of Mansfield; two granddaughters, his foster mother, Mrs. George Henry of Springfield township, and one brother, Carl Noblet, of Toledo.

Friends may call at the Finefrock funeral home where services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m., with Rev. R. W. McNary, pastor of the Ontario church, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. A. J. Staats, pastor of the Free Methodist church. Burial will be in the Ontario cemetery.

Second Evangelistic Service Draws 700

"If you really want an old-fashioned revival in Mansfield, then you'll have to conform to God's plan," Dr. R. J. Wells told between 700 and 800 persons gathered in Johnny Appleseed auditorium last night for the second evangelistic service.

That plan and promise is contained in Second Chronicles, seventh chapter and 14th verse, he explained, quoting: "If My people which are called by My name, shall humble themselves and pray and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and forgive their sin and heal their land."

"A revival only comes when something happens to God's people," Dr. Wells declared. "The trouble with God's people today is that they hold the world in one hand and God in the other. You'll have to make your choice and sever connections between the two."

Dr. Wells listed four requirements as contained in his chosen scripture passage before revival could succeed. These, he said, are humility, prayer, supplication, which is praying through to glory, and a turning from wicked ways.

J. Stratton Shufelt, who came from Cleveland yesterday to lead the singing for the three-week series, sang two solos and led the enthusiastic audience in old favorite hymns.

Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church and chairman of the financial committee for the meetings, presided.

Voters Give Their Views

Congressman J. Harry McGregor's public opinion poll, launched last week when he mailed questionnaires to 2,500 citizens, is bringing quick results, he announced in Washington today.

The questionnaires were mailed to public officials, labor, farm, professional and industrial leaders in this area.

They asked opinions on such questions as the Marshall Plan, repeal of the Taft-Hartley bill, federal aid to schools, government control of hospitals and dentists and presidential control over wages and production. Eleven questions were on the form.

Congressman McGregor gave no indication of the consensus of replies, but stated that 30 persons had answered the letters yesterday. His findings he said, will be taken to the House.

This is the fifth year McGregor has conducted his public opinion poll.

K. W. Hechler, professor of politics at Princeton, has asked McGregor to explain his poll to a Princeton group in Washington this week.

Amvets Plan Parties

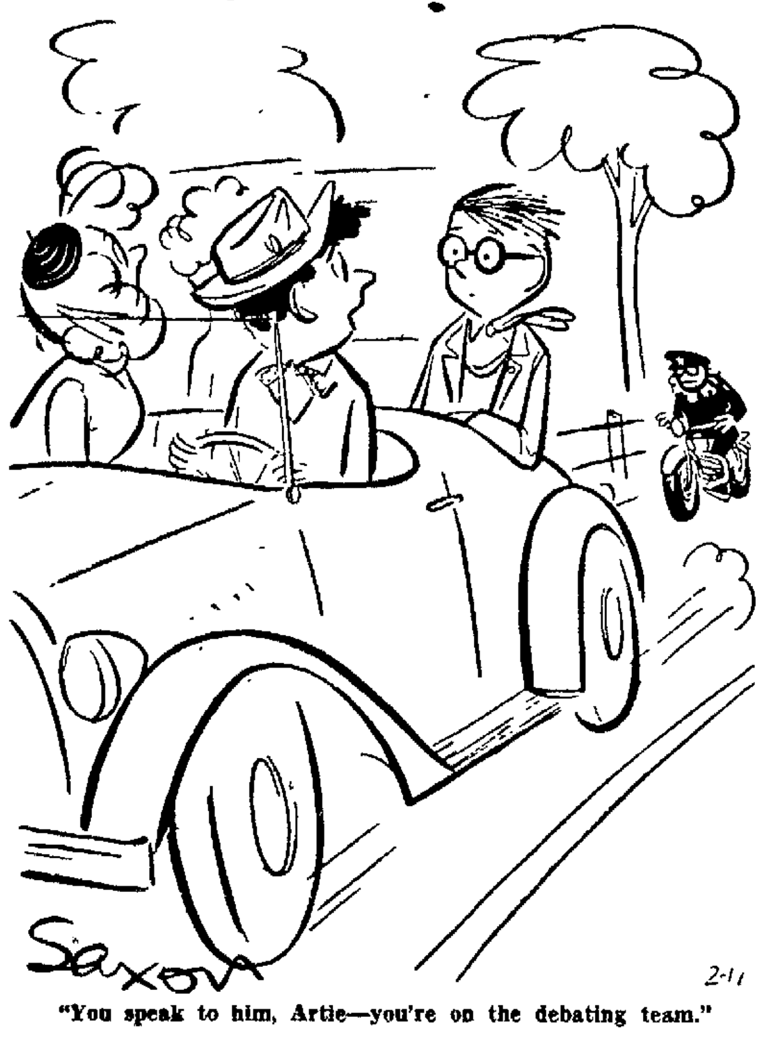
Three social events are on the calendar for the Amvets this spring. They include a box social, a St. Patrick's day dance and the Amvets second anniversary celebration the first of April. Auxiliary members will assist in the anniversary celebration.

Suspect Detained In Purse Snatching

A North Adams street man was held for questioning by police today in the purse snatching complaint of Jane L. Hite, rear 131 West Third street.

Miss Hite's purse containing $12.45 in cash was snatched by a man at West Third street and Weldon avenue. The woman said the thief accosted her at Third and Main and followed her to Weldon avenue.

Laf-A-Day . . . .



"You speak to him, Artie—you're on the debating team."

Up and Down the Street . . .

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Dent

The man everybody knows as "Floyd" is having a birthday today and celebrating with Mrs. Dent his 30th wedding anniversary. He's Floyd Dent, of course, executive secretary of the Boy Scouts and so engrossed in his job of making better boys out of Scouts that he regrets there are no boys among his three grandchildren. But don't let that fool you, he's pretty proud of those three granddaughters, two of whom are still very small. His three daughters and three sons planned a double celebration today, but neither Floyd nor Mrs. Dent could tell yesterday what it would be. He'll be honored at the Boy Scout office, too, and Scouts all over the area probably will send birthday greetings to "the boss."

The News-Journal also extends birthday greetings to Dr. Carl Damron, Mansfield physician.

NOT WORRYING—

Threatened coal strikes and transportation tie-ups are not worrying Glenn L. Robinson, business manager of Mansfield schools. Robinson has enough coal in school bins to last to April 1 and two or three schools have supplies adequate for the rest of the term. He said he had enough on order to heat buildings for the rest of the semester and hopes to have the new supplies here before long.

SIGN OF SPRING?—

Believers in signs will find an optimistic note in this. Workers at Raemelton farm yesterday afternoon found a live snake about two feet long in the woods. Snakes hibernate during the winter and usually don't appear until the first warm days of spring. Workmen said the snake they found appeared active. They captured the reptile and took it to the barns.

Insurance Contracts Renewed

Premium Cost Upped $1,060

An increase of $282,000 in the valuation of Mansfield public school property for insurance purposes was approved last night by the board of education.

The boost, which Board Member W. O. Leedy said resulted from building of an addition to the Western avenue school and a general upward revision in building values, will add approximately $1,060 to the board's annual insurance costs.

Annual premium was estimated at $5,563 by Leedy who is an insurance inspector. He said $400 of the increase represents premium for insurance on the Western avenue addition.

The board authorized renewal of about $468,000 worth of insurance on the buildings, effective April 21. That amount is one-fifth of the total insurance on school properties. The schools are valued at $2,956,000 for insurance purposes, or 80 per cent of their actual value.

The board ordered $10,000 more insurance to cover new school equipment stored in the Bushnell school building.

Insurance policies on the schools are allocated to various Mansfield agencies by the Mansfield Board of Fire Underwriters.

REJECTS BID

The board rejected a bid of the American Seating company, Grand Rapids, Mich., for supplying seats and chairs for the new Roseland school and Western avenue school addition because the bid contained an "escalator" clause, opening the way for an increase in price.

The firm offered to supply the equipment at a cost of $15,840. It was the only bid received.

The board is expected to request new bids on the equipment or work out an arrangement for buying the equipment in small quantities without advertising for bids.

Requests for improvements at the Brinkerhoff and Woodland schools were submitted to the board last night by the Parent-Teacher associations of the schools.

Harold Rauschert and T. S. Banks, representing the Brinkerhoff P-TA, asked for installation of new lighting in the school, explaining that tests made by an Ohio Public Service company representative showed the present system inadequate. They said cost of the project was estimated at about $3,360.

Dr. William R. Riester, board member, suggested that the Richland County Medical society be asked to recommend two eye specialists to survey the school lighting situation with a view to providing information to aid in the selection of lighting equipment for the new grade schools being erected. He said the doctors might do the work without charge.

Board members pointed out that it would be unwise to spend funds on repairing old buildings which will be replaced by new schools under the elementary building program.

ASK IMPROVEMENTS

Letters submitted by the Woodland P-TA asked for painting, improved heating facilities and better ventilation in the two basement rooms at Woodland school.

Supt of Schools W. L. Miller reported to the board that a Lake Shore bus which recently was pressed into service for pupils in the Roseland area is hauling from 25 to 30 pupils every morning to schools in the city.

He said petitions are being prepared to submit to Madison township trustees, asking the construction of a sidewalk along Springmill road in the area for the safety of pupils.

None too soon to be consulting your income tax auditor—March 15 is coming along at a rapid pace.

Supreme Court Sanctions Rent Control

EXTENSION of war powers beyond termination of hostilities is sanctioned by the United States Supreme Court in upholding the legality of rent controls, in advance of anticipated action by Congress to continue such controls beyond the present Feb. 29 expiration date.

Consequences of war are taken into account in the Supreme Court's unanimous opinion in the rent control case, thus overruling a decision by Federal Judge Paul Jones, in Cleveland, who said that Congress lost its rent control powers Dec. 31, 1946, when President Truman declared hostilities at an end.

This decision apparently removes any barrier to congressional action in extending reasonable rent controls until such time as supply of housing is more nearly balanced with demand—and also to provide for such rent increases as appear justified by consideration of actual, rather than inflated, valuations, and increase in maintenance costs.

Intent of Civil Service Ignored

WHILE the serious intent of civil service is to disregard partisan politics in the selection of postmasters, actual procedure is so disillusioning as to lead to the conclusion that party affiliation and activity is sometimes placed above qualifications of aspirants.

Revelation by the Associated Press that the Senate is holding up confirmation of 21 nominations by President Truman for Ohio postmasterships has the appearance of injecting a political angle into the situation, due to Republican control of the Senate and likelihood that all—or almost all—of the intended appointees are Democrats.

If politics is to play a part in choosing postmasters—which it shouldn't—then the present situation seems one in which Democrats and Republicans might well be given an even break . . . because a Democratic appointive authority is balanced by a Republican confirming power.

Mansfield, fortunately, is not being inconvenienced by the delay in appointment of a postmaster here, as the office is functioning very satisfactorily under direction of Curtis L. Ford as acting postmaster.

List of 'Eligible Bachelors' Shrinks

OPPORTUNITY to make editorial reference to a wedding comes so seldom that this one is seized upon in an effort to give the greatest possible variety to subjects treated in this column.

As an observer of Paul L. Kelley's progress from boyhood to manhood, and through his long service as city auditor, an admirable quality has always been his devoted attention to his mother, Mrs. Ola Kelley, who, by the way, was one of the early-day employes in the business office of The News, under the Cappeller ownership.

Classed for some years among Mansfield's "eligible bachelors," Paul has obviously had ample time to consider the subject of matrimony in his customarily thoughtful and rather deliberate way—and his judgment will not be questioned by those who have met "the girl of his choice."

Just why he—or she—deemed it advisable to withhold announcement of the marriage from last July until now, may be a reasonable subject for discussion among their friends, but, after all, that is something about which they were privileged to do the deciding . . . and, now that we have been told, our congratulations are as sincere as they would have been last summer, had we known about the wedding immediately afterward.

Food Supply For More Millions

THE CENSUS BUREAU estimates that by 1960 population of the United States will be 155 millions, and that by 1990 it will reach 165 millions. The question arises, with some difficulty now being encountered in feeding 142 millions, how shall the additional millions be properly fed?

One might think that since the population is increasing continuously, the amount of land in production of crops to feed and clothe the people also would be increasing, but this is not so. There was an increase during the war, but before the war the trend was downward, and now it has turned downward again. Secretary of the Interior Julius C. Krug says the nation is losing 500,000 acres of topsoil each year through erosion alone.

Krug says we must take better care of the cropland we have, and must add to it by reclaiming land now useless because of too little or too much water. The water that now flows to the sea in the great rivers can help make dry soil grow crops. Land already in use is more productive than it was a decade or two ago, because research has found ways to increase the amount of a given crop an acre will yield. Slowly we are learning how to keep the soil from being washed away in rainstorms. With eternal vigilance, perhaps coming generations will not fare so badly, after all.

After ten years of study, some McGill university scientists have concluded that porpoises have as much fun as people—"and," comments the Kansas City Star, "they don't have to pay income taxes, either."

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

No Argument Intended

SURELY newspaper columnists must have been in mind when it was pointed out in the Book of Proverbs that "The way of transgressors is hard."

Your columnist has had his knuckles soundly rapped by a reader for views expressed at the time of Mahatma Gandhi's assassination. On that tragic occasion I wrote:

"Gandhi was my friend—the friend of all humanity, for that matter. He was indeed a holy man whose outlook was not restricted by race or dogma. His whole code was summed up in goodness, and he took it where he found it.

"His own life encompassed not only Hinduism, in which he was born, but Christianity, Mohammedanism, and other religions. And he once told me that the greatest influence in his life had been Christ's Sermon on the Mount."

My reader critic (and heaven bless 'em all, just so long as they are readers) demands how I explain that statement about Gandhi's life encompassing Christianity, "in the light of Exodus 20:3—'Thou shalt have no other gods before me'?"

Well, I'm too old a hand to get involved in technical religious arguments, being the son of a Methodist minister and thus knowing something of the pitfalls for amateurs. So I am going to stand pat and add a couple of stories about some little incidents which long have seemed to me to be an invitation to tolerance, in a world which needs it.

On my first visit to India a generation ago I was the guest of the late Maharajah of Bikanir, an Arabian Knights prince who was among the greatest of the subcontinent's potentates. He was in every respect a grand gentleman who followed the highest moral code himself and insisted on the same from his officials and court.

But his highness was a Hindu, and through his own friendly connivance I saw him in a ceremony which probably no other non-Hindu ever had witnessed.

I saw him and his two little princes prostrated on the floor of the great temple before a stone idol. I was shocked and troubled as I tried to weigh that sight against his grand morals. Then came that little incident inviting tolerance.

* * *

Revealing Incident.

THE DAY I left Bikanir the maharajah also was traveling by train to Delhi and he invited me to ride in his palatial private car We pulled out of the capital at sunset, and I stood by a window admiring the picture made by the golden rays striking across the towers and turrets of the city.

Suddenly I became aware that the prince was on his knees in prayer, and when he arose after several minutes he turned to me and said:

"I owe you an explanation. When I leave my capital I always pray God to keep my people safe, and bring me back to them again."

The story involves another great prince who also was a Hindu—the late Maharajah of Gwalior—whom I visited several days. He was good to his people and his morals, like those of his friend Bikanir, were beyond reproach You get a gauge of the man when you know that he established a famous boys' school in which lads of all religions, races and social standing were welcome.

There were in his capital a large number of missionaries, including Americans, and the maharajah (an orthodox Hindu) not only raised no objections to their proselyting but made things as pleasant for them as he could.

He was fond of children and during my stay he gave a big garden party on the palace lawn for the missionary youngsters. The prince joined in the fun and even engaged in leap-frog with some of the kids. As I stood watching this wholly happy picture an American missionary said to me:

"What a pity, Mr. MacKenzie, that his highness isn't a Christian."

And of course it was, but that remark got under my skin. I gave him an answer which I probably should not have done, but I still let it lie where it fell:

"Well, if you don't spell it with a capital "C" he seems to be a pretty good one to me."

Whereupon the missionary stalked away in indignation without a single word.

Washington Calling

'Grab-and-Run' Methods

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE CRIES of righteous indignation that have gone up over speculation by government officials seem a little out of proportion to the crime involved. This is true particularly when you consider some of the things going on in this Congress.

It is a notorious fact that an increasing number of congressmen retain their connections with their law firms back home and either directly or indirectly represent their clients in Washington.

A remarkable example of this practice has recently come to light.

Rep. Ross Rizley of Oklahoma is the sponsor of a bill passed by the House last summer which would enable natural gas companies to raise their rates substantially and increase their profits.

Some of these same gas companies are clients of the law firm in which Rizley is a partner in Guymon, Okla. So here we have a man, who was presumably elected to represent all the people of his district, speaking for the narrow interests of a few large companies that are owned and controlled a long way from Guymon, Okla.

At least Rep. Rizley has the frankness to admit his connection with his firm and the clients represented by that firm. A number of congressmen are not so frank. They go through the motions of severing their law connections, yet they continue as spokesmen for the clients they formerly represented.

* * *

"Free Enterprise" Too Free.

BUT the case of Rep. Rizley and his bill in behalf of the natural gas companies illustrates as well as anything could just what this practice means. Its meaning is made abundantly clear in a report by Leland Olds of the federal power commission.

The Olds report, subscribed to by Commissioner Claude L Draper, who was first appointed by Herbert Hoover in 1930, gives a damning picture of the propaganda drive put on by the companies.

"These great corporations," Olds said, "have attempted to persuade officials of producing states, the owners of gas royalties, the educators now dependent on oil and gas revenues for the support of schools and universities, that their interests are enhanced by quick exploitation of natural gas at prices determined by what the traffic will bear in competition with oil and coal. But the record completely contradicts this specious identity of interest. For it shows the oil and natural gas enterprises as powerful outsiders selfishly inciting the regional people to support against the best local interests."

In the southwest, where the gas comes from, there is a desire to build up independent industry. But, as Olds pointed out, this great natural resource is siphoned off to build up industry in the northeast. The object of the companies, Olds charged, is to get the stuff out of the ground as quickly as possible at the greatest possible profit and then clear out.

This has been the tragic pattern in the Far West and the South. Far too often, eastern corporations have looked on the territory beyond the Hudson river as a kind of colony to exploit by colonial methods. The policy of grab-and-run has left stranded populations and vast areas laid waste.

Surely Speaker Joe Martin, who has been warning of a plot to undermine faith in Congress, could not have known the full significance of the Rizley Bill when his Republican flock voted for it in the House last July.

There is no surer way to undermine that faith than by advertising the fact that corporations can hire lawyers who are also members of Congress and who will push the special interests of their clients.

A study by the Federal Power Commission shows the gas companies made generous profits from 1939 to 1946. Those profits are part of the free-enterprise system which most Americans support.

Profit-seekers should understand that abuses and excesses can do far more to bring about its destruction than any sabotage from the outside.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Morgan Man To Govern Federal Reserve

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—When Franklin Roosevelt first entered the White House, one of his toughest feuds was with the J. P. Morgan banking firm, which a Senate probe disclosed as having wiggled out of thousands of dollars of income taxes. All during his long administration, Roosevelt kept the Morgans at arms' length—much to the consternation of his mother, who was a great friend of several Morgan partners.

In contrast, Harry Truman will soon have a Morgan-made man governing the banking system of the United States. That will be the situation when likable Tom McCabe steps into his new job as governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

Most people around Washington haven't realized it, but McCabe's brilliant climb up the business ladder, plus his equally meteoric rise in government has been due not only to a winning smile and shrewd business technique, but to the constant backstage backing of the house of Morgan.

The smartest move McCabe ever made was when, as sales manager for the Scott Paper Co., in 1927, he floated a loan with Drexel and Co. (part of the Margan combine) and with that loan became president of Scott paper.

Simultaneously, McCabe transferred the company's advertising to J. Walter Thompson, pet advertising concern of the Morgan firm, and also worked out one of the biggest dividends in stock-market history, exchanging one share of stock for ten.

Prior to the Drexel-J. P. Morgan loan, Scott Paper stock had been closely held by only about 60 people. But with the loan the stock was sold widely. McCabe, as president, has an outright ownership of 560 shares and a "beneficial" ownership of 88,074.

* * *

The Hand of "J. P."

M'CABE and the Scott Paper company have stuck close to the Morgan crowd ever since. And working together they have made Scott the foremost toilette tissue company in the world. From a volume of about $5,000,000 when McCabe arranged the Drexel-Morgan financial hookup in 1927, the company now has an annual volume of around $60,000,000.

Thomas S. Gates, jr., a partner in Drexel and Co., is one of the Scott directors. Another director is Gilbert Kinney, vice president of J. Walter Thompson, who helped set the Scott-Morgan wedding. Charles S. Cheston, a Morgan director, is also director of the Mead Paper Co., which in turn is Scott's partner in ownership of the Brunswick Pulp and Paper Co.

Another official of the Scott Paper company is G. Willing Pepper, grandson of the late Joseph Wayne, into whose shoes Tom McCabe eventually stepped as chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia.

It was also the son of a Morgan partner, Ed Stettinius, who gave McCabe his meteroic boost up the ladder of government. The J. P. Morgan interests had put Stettinius into the chairmanship of the U. S. Steel company, and while still in that position, Stettinius became a member of the Business Advisory Council to the department of commerce. He also helped get his friend Tom McCabe a similar position on the Advisory Council.

And from that point on, wherever Stettinius went, McCabe went with him. When Stettinius joined the Council of National Defense, McCabe became his executive assistant. When Stettinius became director of priorities, McCabe became deputy director.

And when Stettinius let the big steel and aluminum crowd pull the wool over his eyes and postpone new steel and aluminum plants, McCabe, who also failed to back the big steel and aluminum companies, moved with Stettinius over to the lend-lease administration.

There McCabe was deputy lend-lease administrator to Stettinius. Finally when the son of the Morgan partner became secretary of state, McCabe moved into the state department in charge of liquidating U. S. property overseas.

So, step by step, gracious, delightful Tom McCabe and his Morgan friends have moved down the lane of business and government together. It has been a pleasant and profitable association — for both. And it will be interesting to see who benefits most from Tom's new and all-important job as federal reserve governor—his old banking friends or the public.

Birthday Party Guests.

Kindly Gen. Omar Bradley, known as the GI's best friend, had a birthday last week. He was 54 and his birthday fell on the same day as Abraham Lincoln's.

Having just been made chief of staff, the top brass of the Pentagon building were in something of a twitter as to who would be invited to the general's birthday party. It was known in advance that a party was to be thrown in the chief of staff's office, but nobody could figure out who was on the guest list.

As the time of the party arrived, the mystery was easily solved. Those invited were the clerks, secretaries, and enlisted men who worked in Bradley's office. None of the brass hats was present except for one man—Bradley's old friend, General Eisenhower.

Assignment: America

Some Odd Contradictions

By KENNETH L. DIXON

MUNICH, Germany—(By Air Mail)—Occupied Germany today remains a curious collection of contradictions, and the passing visitor finds it impossible to know what to believe.

For that matter, some pretty impartial and objective Americans who have been living in Germany for the past two or three years seem to have the same trouble.

Typical of the kind of conflicting stories they constantly encounter was the interview I had the other day with a well-educated and extremely well-informed German who had been completely cleared by the denazification courts of any taint of der fuehrer's following.

This particular individual kept stressing the fact that "nobody wants to have a baby in Germany these days." Perhaps because he had been mentally conditioned by Hitler's baby-boosting tactics, this declining reichland birth rate seemed to trouble him more than any other single current problem.

He said that except for illegitimate births—which he insisted accounted for one-fifth of the recorded births in Munich last year—the rate would have dropped to the lowest point of this century.

Stressing that this "widespread reluctance among the population to accept the burden of bringing up children in just one feature marking the desperate psychological plight of the German people."

He said that abortions have become big business in the reichland of recent months.

* * *

Doctors Ignore Law.

SO COMMON are abortions, he said, that a popular price range has been set. It varies from 1,500 to 3,000 marks—or from two to four cartons of American cigarets—for a single case.

If the patient is well-known, or high in the German social system, the price may of course be considerably higher.

"But usually it makes no difference," he said. "German doctors still have their standards. . . ."

In outlining details of the flourishing abortion trade, he stressed that German doctors are almost starving today and "forced to accept any type of medical and surgical work they can find."

Also, he added, they have the moral responsibility of caring for people whom they know would attempt amateur—"and possibly fatal"—abortions if not given the benefit of professional aid.

"All of this indicates," he insisted, "that the depth of German social misery is proving stronger than the many moral, ethical and religious objections—not to mention the penal code which terms abortion as punishable acts. . . ."

Then, wryly, he admitted that this disapproval of bringing babies into the modern German world had not affected one curious situation in which they have become a new item on the reichland's unique black market scene. He said:

"If you want to be sure to get in an overcrowded train, just borrow a baby—or rent it—pose as mother and child and you will be guided into a special compartment.

"If you have to queue up for food or any other scarce commodity, arrive at the end of the line with a borrowed child in your arms and move forward to the front position nonchalantly. There will be only faint opposition and complaint."

For another example, he said that when the inter-zonal train running from Berlin to Hannover stops at the Marienborn border check station, the Russians require all of its 2,000 to 3,000 passengers to get out and file through a military hut for pass inspection.

Here again, those with children can push by their muttering and not too happy fellow citizens and get their passes stamped early—thus getting back on the trains for choice seats and a little rest.

The Carver Stamp

By CALVIN A. BYERS

I WAS happy about the George Washington Carver postage stamp. The dark face, the gray kinky hair, the broad flat nose—all the typical racial features of that small picture—must have made it a source of hope and inspiration to the most poverty-stricken Southern cabin dwellers of this country.

George Washington Carver was born a slave. At six months of age, his father and mother were stolen by raiders who resold the parents farther south, and left the baby to starve. Then, having a change of heart, they returned the child to Moses Carver, in exchange for an old horse. The child was ill with whooping cough. He never saw his father or mother, but grew up an orphan in the Carver home. In praise of his industry and honesty this family added the name George Washington to their own.

When slavery was ended, he still kept on at his master's home. Weak, after that time of exposure and neglect, he was never a strong boy physically, so instead of heavy labor in the fields he became a most useful and helpful house boy. Mrs. Carver taught him to cook, bake, crochet, iron, wash and mend clothes and work the garden. She answered kindly his many curious questions — what makes bark grow on trees? Why is grass green?

When he left the Carver home, he found few schools where any teacher would have a kind word for a black boy, much less stoop to instruct him. He sought entrance to a Kansas college after selling all his belongings except the threadbare clothes he wore. But when he introduced himself and stated his desire, the principal said shortly, "We don't take niggers here."

At 25, after long and eager searching he was permitted to enter Simpson college, Indianola, Iowa. His art teacher helped him to enroll as a very special student in Iowa State college. At this famous agricultural school, he was in his element. Here he met James G. Wilson, Henry C. Wallace, (later secretary of agriculture) as teachers. Henry Agard Wallace, as a small boy, learned Nature from him.

He went to Tuskeegee and taught his race to save their land by diversified crops such as sweet potatoes and peanuts instead of perennial cotton. He made paints from the vari-colored clays around the school. He found over 300 ways to use sweet potatoes and peanuts. "God showed him" his new discoveries, he said, and they were for everybody Profit had no part in his goal. His life was one of service Already his strange and useful career has become a powerful, inspiring legend.

Plans Being Completed For Annual Police Ball at Shelby

SHELBY — The annual Shelby Police ball will be held at Eagle hall on March 15 to raise funds to purchase equipment for the police department.

The annual affair is sponsored by the Police Welfare association which is headed this year by Patrolman Richland Landis, who succeeded Police Chief Leroy Coffey. Patrolman William Ewalt succeeded Night Captain Jack Coleman as secretary-treasurer.

Committees named so far for the ball include ticket and advertising, Patrolmen Gail Springer and Rodney Karr, and entertainment, Patrolmen Coleman and Ewalt.

Other arrangements are being completed to make the ball one of the largest ever held in Shelby.

Coal Supply Is Adequate

Though you cannot get immediate delivery, the supply of coal in Mansfield is adequate, a survey showed today.

While one dealer did report a two-week delay between the time of ordering and date of delivery, most dealers said they had all the coal they needed on hand, and that the only thing holding them back was a shortage of trucks to deliver the fuel.

From one to four-day delays because of a transportation shortage were quoted.

One of the larger dealers said that the supply was not as adequate as it might be. He said that a shortage of railroad cars to haul the coal from the mines has forced some mines to keep shut three, four and even five days a week.

The game of poker is an adaptation of an old Persian pastime which was played with only 20 cards and limited to four players.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress It works this way:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and adults are victims of Pin-Worms.

Watch for the warning signs, especially the embarrassing, nagging rectal itch. After centuries of Pin-Worm distress a really effective way to deal with them has been established through JAYNE'S P-W, the new Pin-Worm treatment developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets give satisfaction or your money back. So why take chances on Pin-Worms! If you suspect this ugly infection, ask your druggist for P-W and follow the directions. It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM IN 1947

From The Annual Report of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation

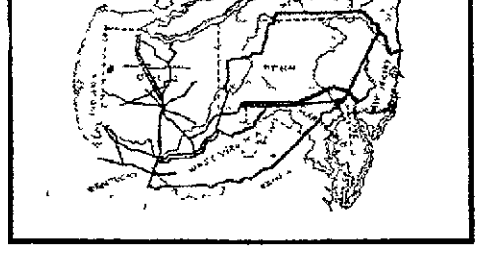
By most standards, 1947 was a highly successful year for the Columbia Gas System. The subsidiary operating companies delivered more gas to their customers than ever before. Gas earnings reached the highest in history. And more money was distributed in dividends than has been paid for many years.

But while these results were achieved, the System did not escape the inflation that beset most business in this country. Costs were higher, materials hard to get. And because of shortages, we, in turn, were unable to deliver all the gas our customers wanted.

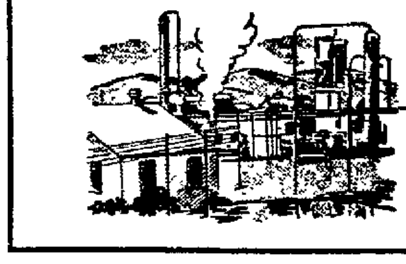
In the months to come, the facilities of this public service will grow. More and more gas from the more than adequate reserves will flow through Columbia's lines.

And because the gas we furnish has become such a vital force in the economic development of the communities we serve, we have an abiding sense of responsibility in bringing a constantly improving service to them.

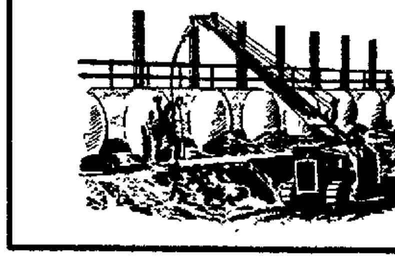
Columbia serves natural gas to a million homes and businesses in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland; and delivers gas to other public utilities in this area which, in turn, sell gas to another 800,000 customers.



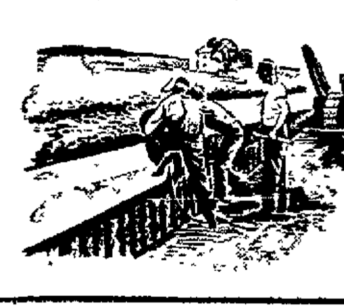
More gas than ever before was wanted by and delivered to those customers in 1947. There were 26 days in December when the System delivered more than a billion cubic feet a day, and for the year, Columbia delivered a total of 231 billion cubic feet, a gain of 18.5 per cent over 1946.



The tremendous peaks created by this unprecedented demand were met in part by building 12 liquefied petroleum plants; by storing more gas underground; by bringing more gas into the System from Southwest fields in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Kansas. Yet these increases were not enough to meet all the wants of the System's customers, especially in cold weather.



Columbia spent $30,594,411 for production, storage, transmission and distribution facilities in 1947. To meet the still increasing demand for this clean, convenient low-cost fuel, the System plans to spend an additional $111,000,000 in 1948, 1949 and 1950.



Even with 1947 sales at an all time high, gas reserves of the System increased to an estimated 6½ trillion feet, 2½ trillion of which are in the Appalachian area and 4 trillion under contract from Southwest fields—enough natural gas to supply existing and prospective customers for many years to come.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock after which the group completed nine aprons and 12 towels. It was voted to assist at the Dental clinic. The next meeting will be held Feb 25 at the Women's club with Mrs. Andrew Theiss as hostess for the 1 o'clock luncheon.

Buffet Supper Held Monday At Gadfields

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gadfield, 181 Bennet street, was the scene of the buffet supper party given Monday evening for members of the Mothers' club of the United Presbyterian church and their husbands. Associate hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Howard McClure.

Twenty-five were present and served from an attractively decorated table centered with sweetpeas and jonquils. Valentine favors were presented to each one.

Following the supper the men adjourned to the recreation room for games while the mothers held a business session. It was planned to purchase a public address system for the church auditorium.

Mrs. Gadfield, social chairman, announced that a St. Patrick's Day party would be held for the children in the church parlors on March 20 from 3 to 5 p. m. The next regular meeting of the club will be held March 15 at the home of Mrs. Arlie Kiser, 220 Chilton avenue, with Mrs. Carl Hickson as associate.

Mothers are wise!
The country over, Nucoa is the margarine most mothers choose. And now that it's plentiful, you can't please them with substitutes.
Mothers may not know that Nucoa margarine is new-churned the year round, on order only . . . that the makers of Nucoa refine their own nutritious vegetable oils . . . make their own milk culture . . . to insure Nucoa's uniformly fine flavor and texture.
But mothers recognize the results of this care. They say, "Nucoa always tastes so sweet and fresh!" They know that Nucoa pleases both family and guests at their table. They see their children thrive on Nucoa. So more mothers choose Nucoa than any other margarine. Nucoa's so good "it melts in your mouth!"
Serve Nucoa proudly on your table . . .

War Threat Never Dies, Warns 'Ike'

General Gives Final Message

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The international facts of life as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sees them are that communism is on the march, war is always possible, and this country is not prepared to defend itself.

In his last report as army chief of staff, made public last night, Eisenhower foresaw no planned attack on the United States in the immediate future. But unplanned war, world tensions being what they are, could break out any time and, Eisenhower said, this country is not ready for it.

On the credit side of peace, Eisenhower said "the defeat of the democracies, joined in common defense, would be formidable task for any power." He said that "in case of early war," the democracies would exercise almost complete control of the ocean and, between them, the transoceanic airways. He also said a potential aggressor would hesitate to launch an attack that would provoke a "coordinated . . . response."

"By no stretch of the facts can the United States army, as it is now manned, deployed and engaged, be considered an offensive force," he said.

And, he added, "unless remedial steps are taken, the army with its civilian components may, in crisis, prove too weak for its defense mission."

One essential step that should be taken "without further delay," Eisenhower said, is enactment of universal military training legislation now locked up in the House rules committee. Another, he said, is adoption of the Marshall plan to bolster potential U. S. allies in western Europe.

Eisenhower left his army post to become president of Columbia university.

Chief Warns Of Solicitors

Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab issued another warning today against fake solicitors. He said the caution was occasioned by reports that unauthorized solicitors were working in the city.

He urged that any person contacted by a salesman insist that the solicitor show his permit.

"In the past, people who have signed contracts, have called our department two and three months later to register some sort of a complaint, particularly that they didn't know they had signed to do a certain thing," he explained.

The complaints, the chief said, usually arise from the fact that most people fail to read the small print which is often the very heart of the contract.

The police department issues solicitor's permits to authorized salesmen. If every person approached would demand to see such permits before transacting business with solicitors, they would save much trouble both for themselves and the police, the chief said.

Thief Walks On Thin Ice To Escape

OREGON, Ill. —(INS)— Eliza crossed the ice one jump ahead of a pack of baying hounds, but Joseph Padula, 20, charged with burglary and larceny, needed no such encouragement to escape from Sheriff Joseph Maas.

Padula told the sheriff that some of the articles stolen in a score of burglaries were hidden in a shack on an island in the Rock river.

Unwilling to trust his own weight on the ice, Sheriff Maas sent the prisoner for the loot after first getting his solemn pledge to return.

Padula walked past the island to a railroad bridge, climbed a pier and headed south along the tracks in a snowstorm.

Ohio State Kayoes Wisconsin Lead

Bucks Play Role of Loop Giant Killer

COLUMBUS—(UP)—Ohio State university was the giant killer of the Big Nine basketball conference today after knocking off league-leading Wisconsin, 53 to 47, and establishing the University of Michigan as the conference leader.

The loss last night gave Wisconsin a record of six games won and three lost for a .667 percentage compared to Michigan's six won and two lost for a .750 average. It was Ohio State's fourth win in 10 conference games.

Wisconsin fought hard but was only in the ball game during one short period of the second half. After five minutes in that half the Badgers pulled up to 34-33 with the aid of Bobby Cook's four quick baskets in three minutes.

NEVER IN LEAD

Wisconsin never got into the lead. When the Badgers threatened most, Dandy Dick Schnittker, who led the field with 24 points, cooled them off with four fielders to run the score to 46-36 and break the Badgers' hearts.

Ohio State had even better control in the first half as it took a 25-15 lead into the dressing room at the intermission.

Wisconsin, although trying 35 shots during the first half, could sink only four, and two of those were by Cook. Cook led the Badgers' scoring with 17 points.

Michigan, driving hard for its second major athletic crown of the school year, reached the top of the standings with a complete rout of Indiana, defeating the Hoosiers 66 to 54.

PURDUE STOPS JIM

In the third game of the three-tilt evening, Purdue knocked off Minnesota 54 to 38 and climbed into third place by shackling big Jim McIntyre, the Gophers' six foot, nine inch center and the conference's leading scorer.

Saturday night's conference games find Purdue at Illinois; Wisconsin at Iowa; Michigan at Minnesota, and Indiana playing Northwestern at the Chicago stadium. Ohio State meets Michigan State in a non-conference engagement.

Six High School Basketball Aces Picked On News-Journal 1948 All-County Team

By GAYLE HAYES

Richland county high school basketball coaches today selected the 1948 all-county league honor team of six performers for the News-Journal.

The coaches all had pretty much the same idea as to the top stars of the league during the past season. As a result the mentors named two players by unanimous vote, one by a point less than a clean sweep, and a fourth only two votes off perfection.

The team selected by the coaches in the News-Journal poll has six schools represented, with seniors taking five of the honor spots. Howard Sunnucks of Ontario, a sophomore, won the other position.

TWO CLEAR CHOICES

LeRoy Dill, Union, and Rollin Ford, Lexington, were placed on the first team by every one of the eight coaches from the eight schools. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Plymouth, was chosen on seven ballots as a first-stringer, and on the other as a second team man, while Sam Roberts, Butler, drew six first team berths and a pair of second team choices.

Half the coaches in the league selected Sunnucks for first string and the other half gave him second team choice, while six coaches chose Don Stake, Lucas, for second team and one put him on the top selection.

The all-star team, as picked, is a fine one. It has speed, height, scoring power, and plenty of defensive ability. It also boasts a combination of players with a keen desire to win and good competitors in every other category.

TOPS ON OFFENSE

Asked to name the 'outstanding offensive player in the league, every one of the coaches selected Rollin Ford for the added honor, and in choosing the No. 1 defensive star, four picked Sam Roberts, with Don Stake, Corny Vanderbilt and Jim Fry getting one vote each. One coach did not nominate an all-star defensive man.

Ford led the county individual scoring race during the past two seasons. In league play this season, he connected for 258 points, an average of 19.9. The Lexington flash totaled 300 points in all games. Dill was second in county scoring with 231 points.

Since the votes were counted on two for each first team selection and one for the second team, 16 was perfect. Yet the system may have lacked something, because it kept Myron Collier of Butler off the first team.

Collier, a senior, had a good season, and was named on the second team by six coaches, with one placing him on the top team. Yet Collier finished with only eight points, two behind Stake in the race for the sixth place on the leading club.

Others to be nominated for first team posts were Jim Fry of Bellville; Rich Hunt of Ontario, and Bill Allen of Butler, but none had enough support to be in contention for a berth.

PLAN FOR COLLEGE

Most of the seniors chosen have already made some plans for going to college, with the smaller Ohio schools in line to get most of the county's graduating talent. Miami, Wooster, Findlay and Case have been mentioned by the candidates, who plan to stay pretty close to home when embarking on collegiate careers.

Tallest of the cagers chosen was Sam Roberts, standing an inch and a half over six feet tall, while Rollin Ford and Don Stake are both five feet, 10 inches.

Sunnucks, of course, is the youngest member of the club, being 15, while Ford and Roberts are 18.

TOURNEY TO OPEN

All of the players will be in action in the annual Richland county basketball tournament which opens with two games tomorrow night on the Senior high school gym floor. Lexington meets Bellville in the opening clash at 7:30 p. m. while Ontario collides with Shiloh in the No. 2 tilt.

Remainder of the first round will be played Thursday with Butler going against Lucas and Plymouth against Union. Semi-finals are listed Friday night with the final game on tap for Saturday.

Late Rally Gives Pioneer Five Win Over Mt. Vernon

Johnny Appleseed junior high's Pioneers staged a brilliant fourth quarter rally last night to defeat Mount Vernon, 37-31.

Johnny Appleseed held a 16-13 margin at the half, but a spree by the losers put the Pioneers behind, 24-22, as the final session opened. During the last quarter Johnny Appleseed swished 15 points through the hoop for the victory.

Dick Harmon paced the winners with six goals and five free tosses for 17 points, one more than Legros of the losers collected.

George Garrison's 610 Series Tops Bowlers

George Garrison, rolling with the Schoolmasters in the Club league, was the most proficient pin pounder in the city last night. Shooting a big 238 game to start things off right, Garrison calmed down to 179 the second try, but came back with 193 and a 610 total.

Bud McKee, blasting at 'em in the Commercial 'C' loop, smashed his way to a 234 middle game, with 181 as a starter and 183 to wind up the night and get himself 598 pins as his team, Tinkey Lumber, won all three from Safety Cabs.

James Miller of the Pioneer Printing team of the Commercial 'C' circuit, was headed for a fat series, but it must have been too fat for him, as he cooled off the third game for 166, after his 203-214 start and finished with 583. Jerry Oroch of the same team had 193 and 221 but skidded to 182 and a 576 series. With the big gunners booming the second game, the Printers swatted 977 pins for top team game of the night.

Barney Mahoney had 563 with a 223 single game; John Ibe 558 with 213 as a climax; Don Daneer a husky 247 middle score and 572 for the night; Jake Streitmater 556; LeRoy Cleckner 543; Joe Kuelling 548, and Joe Harrod 559 as other good series.

★

Keefer paced the Richland 'B' league on the Richland alleys with games of 178, 162 and 193 for a 533 total, while D. Cleckner was hitting 189, 201, and 137 for a 527 total. Yingling tumbled 502 and Rohal 501.

★

James Dunn, pounding away in the Club league, had a big night for his American Legion team. Dunn started with 205 and tapered off with 194, and 192 for a 591 night as his team took all but the last game.

Jim Smith had a 203 middle game to boost his total to 558 for the evening while Joe Hetler speared 542, Rich Bockman 554, and Tom Kithcart 550 for Liederkranz as the team swept all three from Doherty Men's frat.

★

In the Club league, Leiderkranz moved to the top spot by sweeping the series from Doherty, while Baku Grotto dumped Page Dairy twice. As a result Leiderkranz now paces the circuit by one game, with Page Dairy the runnerup. Globe Steel is three games from the top roost.

Bob Lynch led University club to a pair of victories on his 205-176-194 series for 575 sticks, beating Amima club the second two after losing the opener by six pins.

Only a miserable start kept Howard Wenning from the select group. He had all his bad luck the first game and wound up with 123, but leaped to 209 and 215 his second and third games for a creditable 547 count.

★

The Larimore Realty team swept all the honors in the Women's Variety league last night, including three games over Mitsch's Corner Store.

The Larimore ladies had high team total with 2,226 pins, top single game with a 795 and Evelyn Marshman of the team had high series with 496 and her 194 middle game was tops for the night.

★

Bud Hopkins hammered 191, 147, and 181 for a 519 series in the Gorman-Rupp circuit as his Eagles won a pair from the Bantams, with Albert Owens leading the losers on a 490 count. Bill Cykajlo had a pair of strong games, opening with 184 and closing with 183, but his weak middle game of 132 pulled the total to 499. Kenneth Flick shot 473.

Makes Pro Debut

AKRON—(INS)—Ronnie Delaney, former Akron Golden Gloves champion, will make his professional debut tomorrow night at Akron's armory in a five-round bout on the Century's club's fight card. Delaney will meet Fred Bernhardt of Akron.

Richland, Urschel 5's Top Division

Richland Beverage and Urschel Insurance moved ahead in the National division of the City A basketball league on the Senior high court last night.

The Beveragemen rallied in the last half to defeat Yuncker Sports, 43 to 33, while Urschel led most of the way in knocking off Mansfield Tire and Rubber, 32 to 26. The defeat practically knocked the Yuncker team out of the running for the American division title.

GAME TIED 4 TIMES

The game was tied four times and Yuncker led on three occasions before Richland went ahead for keeps. The Richland club led at the half, 22 to 16 and 31-24 as the final heat opened. Wilbur Wade, Richland, led the scorers with 13 points.

Urschel led by quarters, 7 to 6, 15 to 12, and 23 to 15. Mansfield Tire was in front only once in the game.

Showing no mercy, Martin Hardware swept over Barnes Manufacturing, 63 to 21, to set a new season's scoring record. The previous mark of 59 was set by Urschel. Ed Chatlain connected for 24 points as the Hardware team was in front at the intermission points, 12 to 6, 32 to 12 and 38 to 16.

Billiard Five Wins By One

The Rex Billiards basket ball team had one free toss to spare last night as it defeated Ohio Sports Center, 38-37, in the Senior league, at the Friendly House. In the other game Sons of Italy had plenty of competition before conquering Mansfield Tire, 22-19.

In spite of the defeat Ohio Sports Center had the two top scorers in the league, as Robertson and Brandt collected a dozen points each. Mansfield Tire kept in the running by making good on seven free tosses, but could not hit the net from the floor.

Ice Carnival Here Delayed

Melting ice, caused by the recent warm weather, has forced officials of the skating meet to indefinitely postpone the rink carnival scheduled for tomorrow night on the North Lake park.

The meet may be scheduled again later in the season, provided colder weather returns, officials have announced.

Rickey Tells of Defying Baseball Powers In Signing Jackie Robinson to Contract

By FRITZ HOWELL
(Ohio AP Sports Editor)

WILBERFORCE—(AP)—Branch Rickey defied the formally expressed opposition of 15 major league clubs to give Jackie Robinson, first Negro star, his chance at organized baseball.

Using the annual football banquet of Wilberforce State university as his sounding board, Rickey in a candid and impassioned address told an audience of some 250 last night:

"After I had signed Robinson, but before he had played a game, a joint major league meeting adopted unanimously a report prepared by a joint committee which stated that 'however well intentioned, the use of Negro players would hazard all the physical properties of baseball.'

"You can't find a copy of that report anywhere, but I was at the meeting where it was adopted.

"I sat silent while the other 15 clubs approved it.

"I've tried to get a copy of the report, but league officials tell me all were destroyed.

"But let them deny they adopted such a report, if they dare.

"I'd like to see the color of the man's eyes who would deny it."

The Brooklyn Mahatama said he had spent $25,000 in 1945 scouting Negro players, but that his scouts thought they were seeking talent for a Negro league.

"I knew what I was up against. In St. Louis the Negro patrons were not allowed in the grandstand. In seeking my first Negro player I needed a superlative man, a man who had to be an outstanding player on the field, and a thorough gentleman off it.

"When I called Robinson to my office he had no idea I wanted him for a white team. I dramatized six situations I knew he would come up against in baseball. I called him names I all but hit him. And don't kid yourselves, this Robinson is no 'gentle breeze.' He's a competitor, a gentleman, and he has great personal respect.

"The president of the International league, when we sent Jackie to Montreal, said Robinson probably would be killed if we used him in Baltimore He played there and nothing happened. The only thing they've ever thrown at him is a fountain pen for his autograph.

"We knew the success or failure of our experiment was up to Robinson and the Negro race itself. So we set up committees in every National league city, plus a 32-man committee in Brooklyn headed by a Supreme court judge, to control Negro enthusiasm and over-adulation."

You'll like the neighborhood very much.

Yes Sir!

You'll be interested in the sturdy way this home is built. You'll also be interested to find that everything is in good condition; and you're getting gas heat with a gas furnace that is only one year old. A two car garage with concrete floor and slag drive. A 50x120 ft. lot. Quiet surroundings. Located right next to South Park.

Yes Children!

You are protected from traffic here, and you have the huge park for the best playground possible just a few skips away. You'll have the proper environment too, and the school for this district will stimulate your desire to study.
